1 - GOVERNANCE and ADMINISTRATION

100 ......................................................... Definition of Governance

Note: In May 2015, this policy was turned over to the Committee Task Force, under the leadership of Brendan Glaser and Wendy Hall, for complete review and standardization of each committee’s function, membership, and compliance.
100 Definition of Governance

Governance shapes and directs the life of the College, ensuring that all activities help carry out the college’s mission. This system includes making recommendations, developing operational policies and regulations, and determining priorities. Governance is the system by which all constituents can be involved in meeting those responsibilities. All members of the Lower Columbia College community have opportunities for involvement in College governance. The governance system maximizes collegiality and participation while acknowledging established responsibility and authority.

Governance, then, is defined as a participatory system in which every member of the College community can influence decisions regarding operational policies and priorities and thus help provide direction for the College. For governance to function effectively, it is vital that the authority and responsibilities of each individual and group be clearly defined and well understood.

100.1 LCC Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees is the legally constituted authority for the operation of Lower Columbia College. The Board is responsible for all aspects of the College, including mission and goals, selection of a chief executive officer, policy, and finance. The Board delegates authority to the President and receives recommendations from the President in conducting much of its business. The Board of Trustees of Lower Columbia College has adopted a policy governance approach to leadership that encompasses the following areas:

100.2 Administration
The President leads college administration. The President delegates authority to other administrators, including the Vice Presidents, Deans, and Directors.

100.3 Faculty
The role of the faculty is key to the College's effort to carry out its fundamental mission: To ensure the educational success of students. Faculty performs that role not only in classroom and laboratory instruction, but also in curriculum development, conferences with students, and other activities. In governance activity, Faculty assist, with their insight and expertise, in the formulation of college policies and priorities. (In accordance with Standard 4 of the Northwest Commission on Colleges). Standard Four

100.4 Classified and Exempt Staff
Classified and Exempt staff have key roles in the College. They provide a variety of support services affecting all aspects of the College's operational and educational activities. With their insight and expertise, Classified and Exempt staff participate in governance and assist in the formulation of college policies and priorities in which these constituencies have a direct and reasonable interest.
(In accordance with Standard 6.A.3 of the Northwest Commission on Colleges). Standard Six

100.5 Students
Students are the reason we exist. We value student participation, input, and expertise in the governance process. ASLCC and numerous other councils and committees provide opportunities for students to participate through membership or by bringing proposals and ideas. Students are encouraged to participate in the governance process (in accordance with

100.6 Bargaining Units
Bargaining units at L’CC represent their members regarding salaries, benefits, and working conditions. In an effort to strengthen communication and cooperation, these units have significant representation roles in Governance Council and Management Council and the details of these are evident in current contracts. (In accordance with Policy 6-2 of the Northwest Commission on Colleges). Standard Six

100.7 Governing Councils
College-wide representation responsibilities are assigned to the Governance Council for Faculty issues, Labor Management Council for Classified Staff issues, and the Associated Students of LCC for student issues. These councils do not address day-to-day functional responsibilities addressed under Decision-Making (Section H), or Bargaining Units (Section F).

100.8 Decision Making
Other councils and committees, of necessity, carry on the day-to-day functional responsibilities of the College and consult as required with governing councils and administration. There is an attempt to make decisions at the lowest possible level with input from appropriate constituents to insure timely and efficient delivery of services to students. Each committee is responsible for maintaining their rules of operational procedures and standards in consultation with the governing councils and administration.

Every year, the committees publish a list of membership and are responsible to maintain appropriate minutes and documentation in compliance with state rules and regulations where applicable.

100.9 Leadership Team
The Leadership Team is comprised of the President of Faculty Association, President of the Classified Association, President of the ASLCC, a designated representative of the exempt staff, each Vice President, and the President of the College.

The Leadership Team represents all governing councils and appropriate constituents. Its function is to approve college policies and to advise the college administration with regard to planning and priorities. The Leadership Team may call all governing councils together as deemed necessary.
