

1600 Maple Street
PO Box 3010
Longview, WA
98632

ROSE CENTER FOR THE ARTS

In honor of the Stanley B. and Jane L. Rose family, whose generosity to Lower Columbia College

For more information about
Lower Columbia College,
contact The Entry Center,
entry@lowercolumbia.edu

Call 442.2311 or toll-free 1.866.900.2311.

Discover the World Behind the Scenes!

Stage Crafts

Learn how to make stage magic happen

In this "hands on" class students are introduced to all the behind-the-scenes activities that happen to create a production on the stages of the Rose Center. We cover scenic design and construction, lighting and sound design, stage operations, and other technical theater basics. Students will support a range of live performances, including concerts, plays, musicals and lectures.

Enroll in: DRMA 116

Item #2812 5 Cr.

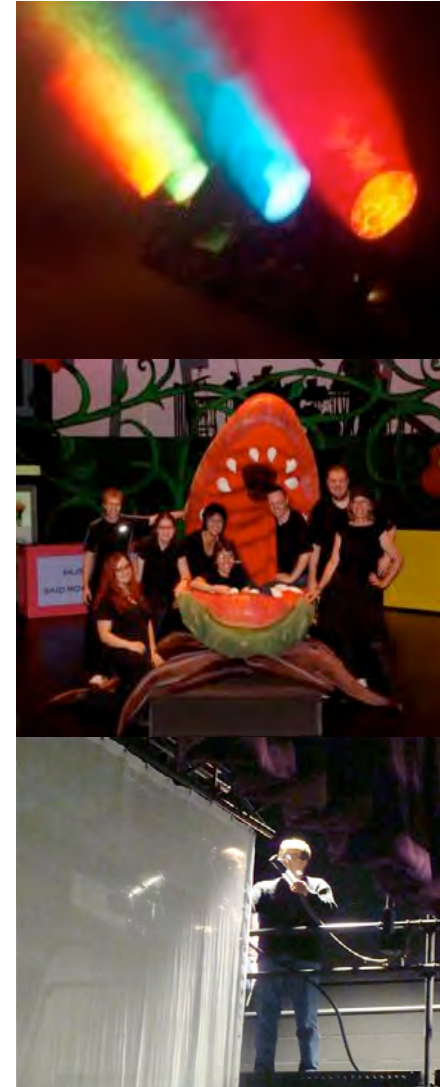

Meets MWF 1:20 – 2:45 in RCA 148

Instructor: Robert Cochran

Teaches technical areas involved in a production through lecture and application of skills learned in selected technical areas from design to construction to production. Practical experience is gained in sets, costumes, lights, and by serving on stage crew for the current Rose Center productions

Find out more:

Contact the instructor, Robert Cochran
360.442.2277, rcochran@lowercolumbia.edu

lowercolumbia.edu

take yourself
higherandhire

Lower Columbia College is an equal opportunity institution