

Thinking About Thinking

Winter 2012

HUMANITIES 230 — 5 Credits

This course provides transfer degree Humanities distribution credit.

Online with instructor David McCarthy, Ph.D.

What is the difference between natural thinking and critical thinking? How does language both structure and limit thought? How do you identify fallacies in politics, commercials, and other mediated information? How can you become more creative and intuitive, as well as logical and analytical? Explore these and other topics in this 10-week course in critical and creative thinking.