LCC Students Compete for National Scholarship

Two students have been selected by Lower Columbia College to compete nationally for the 2006 Jack Kent Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship. Each year, our college chooses two students of exceptional achievement to compete for this distinguished award. From the one thousand anticipated applicants from across the nation, thirty community college students who plan to transfer will be chosen to receive up to $30,000 annually for tuition and expenses.

LCC’s two candidates are Megan Shulke and Tadd Wheeler. Megan plans to pursue a Business degree at Colorado Christian University.

Tadd is transferring to the University of Washington to major in Forest Resource Management. Good luck to both our candidates.

For information on the Cooke Scholarship, please contact Patrick Boerner, Faculty Representative for the scholarship. Reach Patrick in ADC 144 or at pboerner@lcc.ctc.edu.

Application Deadlines Are Coming…

If you plan to transfer to a four year institution in the fall, now is the time to apply for admission. Some application dates have already passed, but many schools are still looking for qualified applicants. If you have questions about application dates or the application process, then please make an appointment to see a transfer advisor.

Transfer Club
On February 7, several students made a proposal to the ASLCC to start Lower Columbia College’s first Transfer Club. If approved, students will benefit from a higher level of support from students and staff through the transfer process. Also, students will play a greater role in deciding the destination of future college van trips and determining which college representatives will be invited to campus. Watch for more details so that you can get involved!

Thank You, ASLCC!!!
Due to the generosity of the ASLCC, the Transfer Center has two new computers and a new plasma screen television. The faster processors on the computers allow students to research colleges and universities more rapidly than before. In addition, the DVD ROM drives enable students to view DVDs from a variety of colleges and universities. Once the plasma screen television is installed, students will be able to view these DVDs on a grander display. Stop by the Transfer Center and view one of these DVDs today!

During our visits, university staff will present admissions, financial aid and transfer information. You’ll also get a campus tour, along with free time to explore.

Sign up Information
Van trip sign up is at the Entry Center, Admissions Center lobby.
Cost: A $10 refundable deposit is required for each trip. Lodging costs for overnight trips are due when signing up. Meals, unless specified, are not included. For more information, please see any advisor in the Transfer Center.

College Credit Available for Attending a Van Trip
You can earn a college elective credit for attending a van trip. This requires writing a paper describing what you plan to learn on the trip and what the experience meant to you. To enroll in the credit, please contact an advisor in the Transfer Center.
